

Introduction to the Audition Admin System

AuditionAdmin is the system to manage entries, score, and post results for OSSBDA All-State Concert and Jazz Band auditions. This guide contains directions for directors to manage their entries.

Getting Started

The system has been recently updated with some changes. Basically, now there is a 3-step process:

1. Director creates a user account then creates (or selects) school account
2. List students in the system
3. Complete/submit student instrument entries

Head directors (not assistants) should create their user and school accounts first.

1. Navigate to ossbda.auditionadmin.com
2. Click on "Directors", then "Create Account".
3. Enter the registration code provided to you in the OSSBDA Fall Letter.
4. Complete all fields and then click on "Create Account". This will create your user account.
5. It is strongly suggested that you create your account using your school email address.
6. Check your email for a message to validate your email address. If you don't receive it within a few minutes, check your spam folder.
7. Validating your email will send you to your user dashboard.
8. Click "Click here to choose or create one".
9. Complete the form, then click "Create School".
10. From the School Info page, click "Add Director" to register all assistant directors
11. Log-in information will automatically be sent to your assistants.
12. If you used your school email address and another director at your school has registered, you may see your school listed. If so, select your school. If your school is not listed, click "Create new school," and enter the information for your school.

Complete Entries: Directors/assistants log in at ossbda.auditionadmin.com to complete student entries.

- Click "My Entries" to select student, instrument and then Save. (scroll down for Jazz Instruments)
 - Repeat the process for each instrument entry.
 - If you make an error, delete the bad entry and re-enter the correct data.
